ADVISORY FOR TAXPAYERS AND TAX PROFESSIONALS
December 18, 2023

Tax Compliance Day – January 10, 2024

Collaborative event to help taxpayers with complex compliance issues

PROVIDENCE, R.I. – The Division of Taxation’s mission is to foster voluntary compliance with the Rhode Island tax laws and instill public confidence in our work.

As part of continuing efforts to achieve its mission and to increase community involvement, the Division is hosting a special event. On January 10, 2024 (adverse weather day January 17, 2024), the Division is hosting a collaborative Tax Compliance Day at Rhode Island College to assist taxpayers with complicated multi-agency compliance issues.

The IRS Taxpayer Advocate Service, RI DMV, VITA free tax preparation, RI Department of State, and RI Central Collections Unit have graciously accepted the invitation to participate in the event. By having these agencies together in one place, attendees will be able to discuss resolution of such issues as tax debts or delinquencies and tax-related license blocks, receive refunds they may not have been aware they are entitled to, and find resources to stay up to date on their legally required filings.

This event is free to attend and open to all taxpayers, both individuals and business entities. Registration is not required, though is encouraged.

Information about the event, including registration, is available on the Division’s website at: <https://tax.ri.gov/about-us/tax-compliance-day>.

The event flyer is available on the last page of this document.

For more information on the Division’s community outreach efforts or for questions, taxpayers and preparers are encouraged to contact the Division’s Taxpayer Experience Section by email at: Taxpayer.Experience@tax.ri.gov or by telephone from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on business days at: 401-574-8983.
