individual who is a shareholder of an S Corporation; a partner in a general partnership, a limited partnership, or a limited liability partnership; a member of a limited liability company, a beneficiary of a trust; or a sole proprietor.

If a pass-through entity elects to pay an entity tax under this subsection, the entity shall not have to comply with the provisions of R.I. Gen. Laws § 44-11-2.2 regarding withholding on non-resident owners.

NOTE:

A trust may elect to pay the state tax at the entity level at the rate of five and ninety-nine hundredths percent (5.99%) on behalf of its beneficiary(ies). However, a trust that is a member of a pass-through entity may not be included in an election made by that pass-through entity to pay the state tax at the entity level at the rate of five and ninety-nine hundredths percent (5.99%) on behalf of its members since the trust itself is not an individual as required under R.I. Gen. Laws § 44-11-2.3.

For tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2024, the Rhode Island pass-through entity [the trust] that makes a pass-through entity election for the beneficiary(ies) will report and calculate the pass-through entity income and tax using RI Schedule PTE as part of Form RI-1041 rather than using Form RI-PTE.

RI Schedule PTE is required to be filed if the trust is making the election to pay the pass-through entity tax on behalf of its beneficiary(ies).

The trust will also be required to report the pass-through entity tax paid on behalf of and income passed through to the beneficiary(ies) on RI Schedule K-1.

Entity Accounting Method

Check the method of accounting - Accrual or Cash Basis - being used by the pass-through entity to calculate the amount required to be taken as an increasing modification on the personal income tax returns of the beneficiary(ies) of the pass-through entity.

Determining the Amount of the State Tax Credit for the Pass-through Entity

The State tax credit amount shall be the amount of tax paid by the pass-through entity, at the entity level, which is passed through to the beneficiary(ies), on a pro rata basis.

Regardless of the Accounting Method used by the pass-through entity making the pass-through entity election, the amount of tax paid by the pass-through entity is equal to the amount calculated for line 5 of RI Schedule PTE.

NOTE: the tax amount must be paid in order to receive the credit.

Determining the Amount of the State Tax Credit for the Pass-through Entity Member(s)

To determine the amount of state tax credit for the pass-through entity beneficiary(ies), multiply the state tax credit from line 5 of Form RI-PTE by the percent of ownership for each individual beneficiary. This is the amount each individual beneficiary will report on RI Schedule

W when filing Form RI-1040 or Form RI-1040NR.

Determining the Amount of Income Required to be Reported by the Pass-through Entity

Cash Basis Pass-through Entity:

The amount required to be reported as income by the pass-through entity member(s) is the member's apportioned share of the total of payments made by the pass-through entity DURING the tax year of the return being filed.

For example, a calendar year ending pass-through entity makes four estimated tax payments on the following dates - April 15, June 15, September 15 and December 15. The cash basis pass-through entity also makes an extension payment and a payment following the end of the calendar year.

The cash basis pass-through entity member(s) must report the apportioned share of the total of the four estimates paid during the calendar year as an increasing modification on RI Schedule M, line 2h.

In addition, a cash basis pass-through entity member(s) may take a decreasing modification on RI Schedule M, line 1v for the amount of pass-through entity tax claimed in the prior year which was an overpayment calculated on the RI Schedule PTE when filed.

If the pass-through entity is a cash basis entity as shown on the entity's federal return and Form RI-PTE for tax year 2023 had an overpayment that was refunded to the entity, use the following to determine the decreasing modification amount.

Tax Year 2023 Overpayment Refunded to the Entity

If the pass-through entity's tax year 2023 had an overpayment that was refunded to the entity, the entity would be expected to include that refund as income on its tax year 2024 corporate filings enabling the individual taxpayer to claim a decreasing modification in tax year 2024 IF the individual taxpayer previously accounted for the tax year 2023 refund as part of the payments made in calendar year 2023 AND properly claimed the payments as an increasing modification in tax year 2023. If any part of the 2023 overpayment was due to payments made within calendar year 2024, the individual taxpayer should not have accounted for those payments as part of the 2023 increasing modification because the payments were made within 2024.

Accrual Basis Pass-through Entity:

The amount required to be reported as income by the pass-through entity is the total of payments made by the pass-through entity FOR the tax year of the return being filed minus any overpayment on the return.

For example, a calendar year ending pass-through entity makes four estimated tax payments on the following dates - April 15, June 15, September 15 and December 15. The accrual basis pass-through entity also makes an extension payment and a payment following the end of the calendar year.

The accrual basis pass-through entity must report the total of the four estimates, the extension payment and the payment made with the return as an increasing modification on RI Schedule M, line 2h.

If the payments made for the tax year exceeds the amount of tax on line 5, the total amount of payments must be reduced by the overpayment amount regardless of whether the overpayment is refunded or carried forward.

Note #2:

This percentage should not include portions related to individual member(s) who are not making the pass-through entity election.
