Real Estate Conveyance Tax Increase

On and after October 1, 2025, if the consideration paid for a property is $800,500, the tax would be calculated as follows:

Tier 1 rate of $3.75 per $500 on the entire $800,500 = $6,003.75.

Tier 2 rate of $3.75 per $500 applies only to the $500 over $800,000 = $3.75.

Tier 1 and Tier 2 are added together to determine the total conveyance tax due = $6,007.50.

Examples - Rhode Island real estate conveyance tax: On and after October 1, 2025

Whole Home Short-term Rental Tax FAQs

Q: What taxes apply to short-term rentals prior to January 1, 2026, and how will these change?

A: Prior to January 1, 2026, short-term rentals of residential dwellings rented in their entirety are subject to Rhode Island's local hotel tax of 1% and Rhode Island's 7% sales tax.

On and after January 1, 2026, the 1% local hotel tax will increase to 2%, and a 5% whole home short-term rental tax will go into effect for these properties along with the 7% sales tax.

Legislative Changes

Whole Home Short-term Rental Tax FAQs

- Q. How will this new whole home short-term rental tax impact residential dwellings?
- A. Through 12/31/2025, a whole home rental was subject to the 1% hotel tax, which must be collected from the customer and remitted to the state on the RI-8478. The whole home rental is also subject to the collection of sales tax at 7%.

As of 01/01/2026, the 1% hotel tax has increased to 2% and the whole home rental is subject to a new 5% tax rate along with the 7% sales tax. All of these amounts should be collected from the customer, separately stated on the invoice/bill, and be remitted to the state. The Division has updating the form to accommodate the statutory changes.

These taxes are “trust fund” taxes that are collected from the customer on behalf of, and remitted to, the state. They are charged in addition to the price you set for the rental. They do not come out of a business’s profits.

Whole Home Short-term Rental Tax FAQs

- Q. Regarding sales, hotel tax, and the “whole home” tax on short-term rentals, what charges are the taxes applied to? Are they applied to services like cleaning? Should I apply them to the security deposit? Anything else?
- A. Hotel tax, sales tax, and the “whole home” tax on short-term rentals apply to the gross receipts of the transaction. This includes any commissions or fees, such as cleaning fees and booking fees. However, if a damage deposit is required, separately stated, and refundable, the taxes do not apply to the refunded portion of the damage deposit. The portion of the damage deposit that is not refunded is taxed.

Excise and Estate Tax

Legislative Changes

Whole Home Short-term Rental Tax FAQs

- Q. Will hotels and other short-term room rentals now be subject to an additional 5% tax?
- A. There has been no change to the 5% state hotel tax that short-term room rentals are subject to. The new statute subjects whole home rentals to the same rates (although different taxes) as hotel.

No short-term rental would be subject to both the 5% state hotel tax and 5% tax on the short-term rental of entire residential dwellings for the same booking.

Hotels are subject to the local hotel tax increase from 1% to 2%.

Whole Home Short-term Rental Tax FAQs

- Q. If a rental is booked for the summer of 2026, but the customer booked it in 2025, is it subject the new tax rates for 2026?
- A. Yes. All stays in 2026 are subject to the 2026 rates. Any tax on the stay, including the difference of the 2026 tax rates from the 2025 rates, should be collected from the customer upon checkout and remitted as you would for any other stay during that time period.
