NEW FOR 2012!

This year there are only a few changes to the Personal Income Tax Return:
⇒ Increased Standard Deduction Amount
⇒ Increased Deduction and Exemption Phaseout Amount
⇒ Expanded Income Tax Brackets

Beginning January 1, 2013, the Rhode Island Division of Taxation will no longer prepare current-year tax returns on a walk-in basis. See the back cover for more information.

Has your refund ever been delayed? Below are some common errors and how to avoid them.

Modifications: All valid modifications, both increasing and decreasing are listed on RI Schedule M - Modification Schedule. If you have a modification to Federal AGI, the amount must be listed on the appropriate line provided. Modifications listed on a statement will cause a delay in your return. In the case of an electronically filed return, statements cannot be read causing a delay in the processing of your return and, possibly, the disallowance of the modification.

Other Payments: Did you receive a Form RI-1099PT from a pass-through entity? If so, the withholding shown on the Form RI-1099PT is not to be entered on the “Other Payment” line of your return. The withholding amount must be listed on RI Schedule W - Rhode Island W-2 and 1099 Information.

Schedule W: Be sure to verify the Federal Employer Identification number found in box b on your W-2 or the “PAYER’S federal identification number” box on your 1099 when listing it on RI Schedule W. Even though your employer may not have changed, your employer’s Federal Employer Identification number may have changed causing a mismatch during the verification process.

Rhode Island Temporary Disability Insurance: The ruling in a recent Massachusetts court case involving Rhode Island TDI does not affect treatment of TDI in Rhode Island. RI TDI payment (also referred to as SDI) still cannot be claimed as income tax withheld on a Rhode Island income tax return.

Need additional forms?
All of our personal income tax forms and instructions are available on our website at www.tax.ri.gov. Forms may also be obtained by calling our forms line at (401) 574-8970, by visiting our first-floor lobby at One Capitol Hill, Providence, RI, or by emailing our forms request address at TaxForms@tax.ri.gov.

Want your refund faster?
Consider filing electronically. E-file results in fewer errors, smoother processing, and faster issuing of refunds. Also by e-filing, your refund can be deposited directly into your bank or credit union account.

If you do not have a tax preparer, you may be able to do your own federal and state returns online at no charge through the Internal Revenue Service’s Free File program. Visit www.IRS.gov for more information.

WHEN AND WHERE TO FILE

Form RI-1040H must be filed by April 15, 2013.

Even if you are seeking a filing extension for your Rhode Island income tax return, RI-1040, Form RI-1040H must be filed by April 15, 2013. An extension of time to file Form RI-1040, does NOT extend the time to file Form RI-1040H.

If filing with Form RI-1040, your property tax relief credit will decrease any income tax due or increase any income tax refund.

If you are not required to file a Rhode Island income tax return, Form RI-1040H may be filed by itself without attaching it to a Rhode Island income tax return. However, Form RI-1040H must be filed by April 15, 2013.

Your property tax relief claim should be filed as soon as possible after December 31, 2012. However, no claim for the year 2012 will be allowed unless such claim is filed by April 15, 2013. For additional filing instructions, see RIGL § 44-33. Mail your property tax relief claim to the Rhode Island Division of Taxation - One Capitol Hill - Providence, RI 02908-5806.

WHO MAY QUALIFY

To qualify for the property tax relief credit you must meet all of the following conditions:

a) You must have been a legal resident of Rhode Island for the entire calendar year 2012.

b) Your household income must have been $30,000.00 or less.

c) You must have lived in a household or rented a dwelling that was subject to property taxes.

d) You must be current on property tax due on your homestead for all prior years and on any current installments.

WHO MAY CLAIM CREDIT

If you meet all of the qualifications outlined above, you should complete Form RI-1040H to determine if you are entitled to a credit.

Only one person of a household may claim the credit.

The right to file a claim does not survive a person’s death; therefore a claim filed on behalf of a deceased person cannot be allowed. If the claimant dies after having filed a timely claim, the amount thereof will be disbursed to another member of the household as determined by the Tax Administrator.

IMPORTANT DEFINITIONS

What is meant by "homestead" - The term “homestead” means your Rhode Island dwelling, whether owned or rented, and so much of the land around it as is reasonably necessary for the use of the dwelling as a home, but not exceeding one acre. It may consist of a part of a multi-dwelling, a multi-purpose building or another shelter in which people live. It may be an apartment, a houseboat, a mobile home or a farm.

What is meant by a “household” - The term “household” means one or more persons occupying a dwelling unit and living as a single nonprofit household. Household does not mean bona fide lessees, tenants or roomers and boarders on contract.

What is meant by a “dependent” - The term “dependent” means any person living in the household who is under the age of 18 who can be claimed by someone else on their tax return.

What is meant by “household income” - The term “household income” means all income received both taxable and nontaxable by all persons of a household in a calendar year while members of the household.

What is meant by “rent paid for occupancy only” - The term “rent paid for occupancy only” means the gross rent paid only for the right of occupying your homestead. If you rented furnished quarters, or if utilities were furnished, such as heat, electricity, etc., then you must reduce the amount of gross rent by the reasonable rental value (not cost) of the furniture and the reasonable value of such utilities as were furnished.

LIMITATIONS ON CREDIT

Under the provisions of Section 44-33-16, a claim for relief shall exclude all taxes or rent paid with public assistance funds. The maximum amount of credit allowable under Chapter 44-33, Property Tax Relief Act, for calendar year 2012 is $300.00. In event that more than one person owns the residence, the taxes will be divided by the owner’s share.

RENTED LAND

If you live on land that is rented and your home or trailer is subject to property tax. Multiply the amount of rent you paid in 2012 by 20% and add the amount to the property tax paid. Then enter the total on RI-1040H, line 8. Example:

Rent (3,600 X 20%).............................. $ 720.00
Property Tax............................................... + 2,000.00
Amount to be entered on line 11...2,720.00
2012 INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILING RI-1040

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

This booklet contains returns and instructions for filing the 2012 Rhode Island Resident Individual Income Tax Return. Read the instructions in this booklet carefully. For your convenience we have provided “line by line instructions” which will aid you in completing your return. Please print or type so that it will be legible. Check the accuracy of your name(s), address and social security number(s).

Most resident taxpayers will only need to complete the first two pages of Form RI-1040 and RI Schedule W. Those taxpayers claiming modifications to federal adjusted gross income must complete RI Schedule M on page 5. Taxpayers claiming a credit for income taxes paid to another state must complete RI Schedule II on page 2.

Nonresidents and part-year residents will file their Rhode Island Individual Income Tax Returns using Form RI-1040NR.

Complete your 2012 Federal Income Tax Return first. It is the basis for preparing your Rhode Island income tax return. In general, the Rhode Island income tax is based on your federal taxable income.

Accuracy and attention to detail in completing the return in accordance with these instructions will facilitate the processing of your tax return. You may find the following points helpful in preparing your Rhode Island Income Tax Return.

WHO MUST FILE A RETURN

RESIDENT INDIVIDUALS – Every resident individual of Rhode Island required to file a federal income tax return must file a Rhode Island individual income tax return (RI-1040).

A resident individual who is not required to file a federal income tax return may be required to file a Rhode Island income tax return if his/her income for the taxable year is in excess of the sum of his/her personal exemptions.

“Resident” means an individual who is domiciled in the State of Rhode Island or an individual who maintains a permanent place of abode in Rhode Island and spends more than 183 days of the year in Rhode Island.

For purposes of the above definition, domicile is found to be a place an individual regards as his or her permanent home – the place to which he or she intends to return after a period of absence. A domicile, once established, continues until a new fixed and permanent home is acquired. No change of domicile results from moving to a new location if the intention is to remain only for a limited time, even if it is for a relatively long duration. For a married couple, normally both individuals have the same domicile.

Any person asserting a change in domicile must show:
(1) an intent to abandon the former domicile,
(2) an intent to acquire a new domicile and
(3) actual physical presence in a new domicile.

JOINT AND SEPARATE RETURNS

JOINT RETURNS: Generally, if a husband and wife file a joint federal income tax return, they also must file a joint Rhode Island income tax return. However, if either the husband or the wife is a resident and the other is a non-resident, they must file separate returns, unless they elect to file a joint return as if both were residents of Rhode Island. If the resident spouse files separately in Rhode Island and a joint federal return is filed for both spouses, the resident spouse must compute income, exemptions and tax as if a separate federal return had been filed.

If neither spouse is required to file a federal income tax return and either or both are required to file a Rhode Island income tax return, they may elect to file a joint Rhode Island income tax return.

Individuals filing joint Rhode Island income tax returns are both equally liable to pay the tax. They incur what is known as “joint and several liability” for Rhode Island income tax.

SEPARATE RETURNS: Individuals filing separate federal income tax returns must file separate Rhode Island income tax returns.

MILITARY PERSONNEL

Under the provisions of the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act, the service pay of members of the armed forces can only be subject to income tax by the state in which they are legal residents. Place of legal residence at the time of entry into the service is normally presumed to be the legal state of residence and remains so until legal residence in another state is established and service records are changed accordingly. The Rhode Island income tax is imposed on all the federal taxable income of a resident who is a member of the armed forces, regardless of where such income is received.

Military pay received by a nonresident service person stationed in Rhode Island is not subject to Rhode Island income tax. This does not apply to other income derived from Rhode Island sources, e.g., if the service person holds a separate job, not connected with his or her military service, income received from that job is subject to Rhode Island income tax.

In addition, under the provisions of the Military Spouses Residency Relief Act, income from services performed by the service member's spouse can only be subject to income tax by the state of his/her legal residency if the service member's spouse meets certain conditions.

Income for services performed by the service member’s spouse in Rhode Island would be exempt from Rhode Island income tax if the service member’s spouse moved to Rhode Island solely to be with the service member complying with military orders sending the service member to Rhode Island. The service member and the service member’s spouse must also share the same non-Rhode Island domicile.

However, other income derived from Rhode Island sources such as business income, ownership or disposition of any interest in real or tangible personal property and gambling winnings are still subject to Rhode Island income tax.

Internal Revenue Code provisions governing armed forces pay while serving in a “combat zone” or in an area under conditions that qualify for Hostile Fire Pay are applicable for Rhode Island purposes.

DECEASED TAXPAYERS

If the taxpayer died before filing a return for 2012, the taxpayer’s spouse or personal representative must file and sign a return for the person who died if the deceased was required to file a return. A personal representative can be an executor, administrator or anyone who is in charge of the taxpayer’s property.

The person filing the return should write “deceased” after the deceased’s name and show the date of death in the name and address space on the return. If you are claiming a refund as a surviving spouse filing a joint return with the deceased, no other form is needed to have the refund issued to you. However, all other filers requesting a refund due the deceased, must file Form RI-1310, Statement of Person Claiming Refund Due a Deceased Taxpayer, to claim the refund.

If you are filing Form RI-1040H, the right to file a claim for refund does not survive a person’s death. Therefore, a claim filed on behalf of a deceased person cannot be allowed. If the claimant dies after having filed a timely claim, the amount thereof will be disbursed to another member of the household as determined by the Tax Administrator.

WHERE AND WHEN TO FILE

Rhode Island income tax returns must be filed by Monday, April 15, 2013.

Mail your return to:
Rhode Island Division of Taxation
One Capitol Hill
Providence, RI 02908 – 5806

EXTENSION OF TIME

Any extension of time granted for filing an individual income tax return shall not operate to extend the time for the payment of any tax due on such return.

In General -
(1) An individual who is required to file a Rhode Island income tax return shall be allowed an automatic six month extension of time to file such return.
(2) An application must be prepared in duplicate on form RI-4868.
(3) The original of the application must be filed on or before the date prescribed for the filing of the return of the individual with the Rhode Island Division of Taxation.
(4) Such application for extension must show the full amount properly estimated as tax for such taxpayer for such taxable year, and such application must be accompanied by the full remittance of the amount properly estimated as tax which is unpaid as of the date prescribed for the filing of the return.

ESTIMATED INCOME TAX PAYMENTS

A REFUND will be made if an overpayment of income tax is shown on your return, unless you indicate on your return that such overpayment is to be credited to your estimated tax liability for 2013. No other application for refund is necessary. Please note that no refund can be made unless your return is properly signed.

Rhode Island Division of Taxation

REFUND CLAIMS
RIGL 44-30-87 provides different time periods within which a refund claim is allowed. A refund may be claimed within three (3) years of filing a return or two (2) years from the time the tax was paid, whichever expires later.

If a claim is made within the three (3) year period, the amount of the refund cannot exceed the amount of tax paid within that three (3) year period.

If a claim is made within the two (2) year period, the amount of refund may not exceed the portion of tax paid during the two (2) years preceding the filing of the claim.

For purposes of this section, any income tax withheld from the taxpayer during any calendar year and any amount paid as estimated income tax for a taxable year is deemed to have been paid on the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the close of the taxable year for which the payments were being made.

For more information call the Personal Income Tax Section at (401) 574-8829, option #3.

SIGNATURE
You must sign your Rhode Island income tax return. If filing a joint return, both husband and wife must sign the return. An unsigned return cannot be processed.

Any paid preparer who prepares a taxpayer’s return must also sign as “preparer”. If a firm or corporation prepares the return, it should be signed in the name of the firm or corporation.

If you wish to allow the Tax Division to contact your paid preparer should questions arise about your return, check the appropriate box above the preparer’s name.

NET OPERATING LOSS DEDUCTIONS
The Rhode Island Personal Income Tax law relating to Net Operating Loss deduction (NOL) has been amended by enactment of RIGL §44-30-2.8 and RIGL §44-30-87.1

Under the provisions of RIGL §44-30-2.8, the five (5) year carry back provision for years ending in 2001 and 2002 provided by the Job Creation and Worker Assistance Act of 2002 (P.L.107-147) for federal tax purposes shall not be allowed for Rhode Island tax purposes.

If a taxpayer has already filed a return claiming a five (5) year carry back, he/she must file a Rhode Island amended return on Form RI-1040X.

Under the provisions of RIGL §44-30-87.1, for losses incurred for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2002, an NOL deduction may not be carried back for Rhode Island personal income tax purposes, but will only be allowed as a carry forward for the number of succeeding years as provided in IRS §172. A carry forward can only be used on the Rhode Island return to the extent that the carry forward is unused on the federal return.

Should you have any questions regarding this matter, please call the Personal Income Tax Section at (401) 574-8829, option #3.

BONUS DEPRECIATION
A bill passed disallowing the new federal bonus depreciation for Rhode Island tax purposes. When filing a Rhode Island tax return any bonus depreciation taken for federal purposes must be added back to income as a modification on RI Schedule M, Line 1D for Rhode Island purposes. In subsequent years, when federal depreciation is less than what previously would have been allowed, the difference may be deducted from income as a modification on RI Schedule M, line 2I for Rhode Island purposes.

A separate schedule of depreciation must be kept for Rhode Island purposes. The gain or loss on the sale or other disposition of the asset is to be determined, for Rhode Island purposes, using the Rhode Island depreciation schedule.

EXAMPLE: A company bought equipment after September 11, 2001 that cost $10,000 and had a 10 year life and qualified for 30% bonus depreciation. Depreciation for federal purposes in the first year was $3,700 (30% x $10,000) + (10% x $7,000). Normal depreciation in the first year would have been $1,000. The company should add back on RI Schedule M, line 1D the amount of $2,700 ($3,700 - $1,000). In subsequent years the company should deduct $300 ($1000 - $700) each year while depreciation lasts. The deduction should be on RI Schedule M, line 2I.

If a taxpayer has already filed a return, Form RI-1040X-R should be filed. Questions on this procedure should be addressed by calling the Personal Income Tax Section at (401) 574-8829, option #3.

SECTION 179 DEPRECIATION
Rhode Island passed a bill disallowing the increase in the Section 179 depreciation under the Jobs & Growth Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2003. Section 179 depreciation will remain limited to $25,000 for Rhode Island income tax purposes. When filing your Rhode Island tax return any additional Section 179 depreciation taken must be added back to federal adjusted gross income as a modification on RI Schedule M, line 1E. In subsequent years, when federal depreciation is less than what previously would have been allowed, the difference may be deducted from federal adjusted income as a modification RI-1040, schedule M, line 2J.

A separate schedule of depreciation must be kept for Rhode Island purposes. The gain or loss on the sale or other disposition of the asset is to be determined, for Rhode Island purposes, using the Rhode Island depreciation schedule.

TUITION SAVINGS PROGRAM – SECTION 529
A modification decreasing federal adjusted gross income may be claimed for contributions made to a Rhode Island “qualified tuition program” under section 529 of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. §529. The maximum modification shall not exceed $500, $1,000 if a joint return, regardless of the number of accounts. Taxpayers should claim the modification on Schedule M, line 2G.

If the funds are rolled over to a Tuition Savings Plan of another state or are an unqualified withdrawal, recapture is required.

Taxpayers may also take a modification decreasing federal adjusted gross income in the amount of any qualified withdrawal or distribution from the “Tuition Saving Program” which is included in federal adjusted gross income. Taxpayers should claim the modification on Schedule M, line 2G.

RHODE ISLAND TAX CREDITS
Rhode Island law provides special Rhode Island tax credits which may be applied against the Rhode Island income tax. Before claiming any credits, taxpayers should refer to the Rhode Island law and/or regulations for specific requirements for each credit such as carry over provisions and the order in which the credits must be used. Taxpayers claiming credits must attach RI Schedule CR and the proper form(s) and other documentation to the return; failure to do so will result in disallowance of the credit. A list of allowable Rhode Island credits is available on RI Schedule CR.
If you do not see a particular credit on RI Schedule CR, that means the credit is no longer allowed against personal income tax.

INTEREST

Any tax not paid when due, including failure to pay adequate estimated tax, is subject to interest at the rates of 18% (.1800) per annum.

Interest on refunds of tax overpayments will be paid if the refund is not paid within 90 days of the due date or the date the completed return was filed, whichever is later. The interest rate for tax overpayments is 3.25% (.0325) per annum.

PENALTIES

The law provides for penalties in the following circumstances:

- Failure to file an income tax return by the due date. A late filing penalty will be assessed at 5% (0.0500) per month on the unpaid tax for each month or part of a month the return is late. The maximum late filing penalty is 25% (0.2500).
- Failure to pay any tax due by the due date. A late payment penalty will be assessed at 1/2% (0.0050) per month on the unpaid tax for each month or part of a month the tax remains unpaid. The maximum late payment penalty is 25% (0.2500).
- Preparing or filing a fraudulent income tax return.

USE OF FEDERAL INCOME TAX INFORMATION

All amounts reported from the Federal Forms 1040, 1040A, 1040EZ, 1040NR and 1040NR-EZ, as well as those reported on Form RI-1040, are subject to verification and audit by the Rhode Island Division of Taxation.

The Rhode Island Division of Taxation and the Internal Revenue Service exchange income tax information to verify the accuracy of the information reported on Federal and Rhode Island income tax returns.

OTHER QUESTIONS

Obviously the foregoing general instructions and the specific instructions for completing the return form(s) which will follow will not answer all questions that may arise. If you have any doubt regarding completion of your return, further assistance may be obtained at the Division of Taxation, One Capitol Hill, Providence RI 02908-5801 or by calling the Personal Income Tax Section at (401) 574-8829, option #3.

NAME AND ADDRESS

Complete the identification portion of the return, including your name and social security number, your spouse's name and social security number (if applicable), address, daytime telephone number and your city or town of legal residence.

ELECTORAL SYSTEM CONTRIBUTION

You may designate a contribution of five dollars ($5) or ten dollars ($10) if married and filing a joint return, to the account for the public financing of the electoral system. The first two dollars ($2) or four dollars ($4) if married and filing a joint return, up to a total of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) collectively for all parties and the nonpartisan account, shall be allocated only to political parties which at the preceding general election, nominated a candidate for governor and such candidate polled at least 5 percent of the entire vote cast in the state for governor. The remaining funds shall be allocated for the public financing of campaigns for governor.

An electoral system contribution will NOT increase your tax due or reduce your refund.

DESIGNATION OF POLITICAL PARTY

If you don’t name a political party, your contribution will be credited to the nonpartisan general account or you can check the box and designate a political party. If you designate:

1. (a) a political party which did not receive at least 5 percent of the entire vote for Governor in the preceding general election,
2. (b) a non-existent political party,
3. (c) a particular office, or

Rhode Island Use Tax applies when merchandise purchased outside of Rhode Island is brought into Rhode Island. Sales and use taxes are complementary taxes and are assessed at the same rate. In Rhode Island the sales and use tax rate is 7%.
The Rhode Island Use Tax is most often due when merchandise subject to the sales tax in Rhode Island is purchased from an out-of-state vendor who did not collect the Rhode Island tax and the property is subsequently used in this state. Common examples of transactions from which use tax liability may arise are mail order catalog sales, toll-free “800” purchases and purchases made over the internet.

WHAT IS TAXABLE? The same items that are subject to the Rhode Island Sales Tax are subject to the use tax. Some typical examples of taxable items are jewelry, computers and electronic equipment.
