WHO MUST MAKE ESTIMATED PAYMENTS
Every resident and nonresident individual shall make estimated Rhode Island personal income tax payments if his or her estimated Rhode Island personal income tax can be reasonably expected to be $250 or more in excess of any credits allowable against his or her tax, whether or not he or she is required to file a federal estimated tax for such year.

JOINT RETURNS
A husband and wife may make joint payments as if they were one taxpayer, in which case the liability with respect to the estimated tax shall be joint and several. No joint payments may be made if husband and wife are separated under a decree of divorce or of separate maintenance. If joint payments are made, but husband and wife determine their Rhode Island income taxes separately, the estimated tax, for such period, may be treated as the estimated tax of either husband or wife, or may be divided between them, as they may elect.

CHANGES IN INCOME
Even though on April 15, 2012 you do not expect your tax to be large enough to require making estimated payments later, a change in income may require you to make estimated payments earlier.

HOW TO ESTIMATE YOUR TAX FOR 2012
Your 2012 estimated income tax may be based upon your 2011 income tax liability. If you wish to compute your estimated income tax, use the enclosed estimated income tax worksheet.

CREDIT FOR INCOME TAX OVERPAYMENT
Your credit for income tax overpayment from your 2011 Rhode Island income tax return may be deducted from the first installment of your 2012 estimated tax, and any excess credit from succeeding installments.

CHARGE FOR UNDERPAYMENT OF INSTALLMENTS OF ESTIMATED TAX
An interest charge is imposed for underpayment of an installment of estimated tax. The Rhode Island income tax law follows similar provisions of the Internal Revenue Code with respect to exceptions. Such charge on any unpaid installment shall be computed on the amount by which the actual payments and credits applied to the tax are less than 80% of such installment at the time it is due. If it appears that there was an underpayment of any installment of estimated tax, you may attach RI-2210 (if any of the exceptions apply) to your RI income tax return explaining why an additional charge should not be made.
